Set up your calendar

Use the calendar and set up a schedule that you can stick to. Add in breaks to help avoid study fatigue.

Create an effective workspace

Having an organized space to study and work is important! Sit at a desk or table, have everything you need in reach, and get going!

Accountability

Accountability is key when studying. Set up a quiet time and stick to it. Do you like to work with other people? Have a friend on Zoom while you both study so you can do it together.

Take a break!

Understanding your limits is important for academic success and your mental health. Take a break and go for a walk, watch an episode of your favorite show, or do something that helps you unwind!
